BANSHEE
branding

Hi sweet Ken.

Each page either has one or two fonts and then the possible branding (uppercase or lowercase or both depending on how they looked). The last couple of pages have the fonts grouped starting with the funkiest and moving to the most professional. Ignore the colors. I was looking at the color palettes to get a feel for them. Those aren't the colors that we'd do if you liked one of those fonts. Let me know which fonts you like if any (I have those Google fonts picked out too), and I can narrow them down then pair them with possible color schemes if there are only like three to work with. Miss you oodles and oodles.

xoxo, Katherine
